

BIGGEST SINN FEIN OUTBREAK IN DUBLIN SINCE 1916. EASTER REVOLT

Starting With Burning of Customs House City Soon Becomes Battlefield With Armored Cars and Volley Firing In Business Section—Casualties Not Yet Known—Damage So Far $5,000,000.

By Telegram to the Freeman, Dublin, May 25.—The most gigantic outburst of violence in Dublin since the Sinn Féin Easter rebellion in 1916 flared up here today with an attempt to burn the government buildings.

The damage was estimated at about $5,000,000.

As flames leaped up from the custom-house members of the clerical force ran into the street. Mistaking the force for Sinn Féiners the Black and Tan policemen opened fire killing and wounding some of them.

The custom house was completely destroyed. The fire spread from this building to other government structures.

Liberty Hall, the headquarters of "Jim" Larkin during the 1916 re-had gathered along the quays. Soldiers and Black and Tan policemen were sent to dislodge them. Heavy fighting developed during which the crown forces charged time and again.

GOVERNMENT AIDS EX-SERVICE MEN

War Risk Man Gives Details Which Disabled Men Should Study Now
and Not Expect Government and Press to Continue to Beg Them to Present Claims—Uncle Sam Anxious to Help and Tales of Mistreatment Are Generally False.

There was a large and enthusiastic meeting under the auspices of George D. Cook Post, No. 111, of the American Legion, at Ellenville, held last Friday night. The particular occasion for the meeting was for the purpose of listening to an address by a government official of the bureau of war risk insurance who made a special trip to Ellenville for the purpose of acquainting the ex-service men, and those interested in the subject there, with the work of the government in connection with its care for disabled ex-service men, and also to look into the care of the disabled ex-service men in that locality.

In the course of his remarks, the speaker, Harry Burlingame, a former officer of the A. E. F., advised his hearers that any man who was harmed physically by reason of his participation in the world war is entitled to medical care and hospitalization, provided the same was incurred in the line of duty, and is in a degree of at least 10 per cent. The government is keenly anxious to see that all ex-service men receive their full rights and benefits under the war
risk insurance act.

The speaker was careful to point out that the acceptance of hospital care and medical treatment and of compensation should not be based upon the ground of receiving charity;
in other words, the disabled men are entitled as a matter of right to receive such care and compensation from the government by reason of their service disability. The disabled men who have not filed claims for medical care and compensation at the present time, were advised to file them at an early date as it is getting more and more difficult for them to prove, in many cases, that the disability from which they now suffer, or have suffered, is due to their service
in the army, navy or marine corps.

In addition to granting compensation to the disabled men, the government also allows compensation for his dependent parents and also for his wife and children. The nearest physician of the United States bureau of war risk insurance who examines claimants for medical care and compensation is Dr. C. S. Willow at Ellenville, N. Y.

The method of obtaining treatment is to file a claim on certain forms issued by the bureau of war risk insurance and they should then be taken to Dr. Willow or other government doctors who will make the examination. Then the papers will be sent to the New York office of the bureau of war risk insurance for transmission to Washington, where they are passed upon by a board of doctors and the necessary rating for compensation is given.

Mr. Burlingame stated that the mere fact that a man was in the active military service during the period of war does not of itself entitle him to compensation. He must have suffered a disability in the line of duty which he can trace to his service, and he is thereupon entitled to government care. As an indication of what the government has done up to the present time, it was pointed out that the rate of expenditure in compensation alone, to disabled men and their dependents, has been at the rate of $11,000,000 per month, or an average of $35 per month for each disabled man.

Sure Relief

LIABILITY in the home and not an asset for the reason that if such a man were to pass away without having even this slight financial fortification
it would entail financial hardship
upon the ones he had left behind him.
Any man who carried government insurance and is now in good physical condition can reinstate the same without paying any of the back premiums. If he wishes to, he may buy permanent United States government insurance which is settled in a lump sum in cash. The government issues all of the regular forms of life insurance policies issued by private insurance companies, and at an expense to the insured of 20 to 30 per cent less than the same kind of policies as can be purchased from private companies.

The big saving to the man, Mr.
Burlingame pointed out, is due to the fact that the United States government bears all of the over-head expenses, such as the maintenance of the clerical force, office rent, stationery, etc., and the ex-service man gets the benefit of this saving. The permanent policies pay dividends, and have the usual immunity in connection with total and permanent disability.

The average man in the service was a $10,000 man, and the government is earnestly seeking, for the benefit of these men and their families, to acquaint the people of the country with the liberal reinstatement provisions of this insurance and of its other valuable features for the protection of the men and particularly for the protection of their home folks.

Applications or reinstatement of government insurance may be had of the commander of the post. Clarence
A. Hoornbeek, No man who can afford it, and there is not a man in the community of Ellenville in this situation, should fail to reinstate some of his insurance and protect himself and protect his home people, particularly when the government offers insurance to him on so liberal a plan. In order that the people of the community might understand what the government is doing with regard to the rehabilitation of the disabled
ex-service men, it was pointed out to those present that the government is using every effort to take care of the disabled men.

The United States federal board
for vocational education is now conducting schools for the training of men who have lost their limbs, or have become otherwise incapacitated for carrying on now, due to some service disability. To explain the situation fully, Mr. Burlingame stated that if a man who was, say, a carpenter, lost his right arm, by reason of service injury, the government would thereupon send him to school,
and pay him at least $100 per month
so long as he was in this school of training. After he had been trained at the expense of the government, he would receive compensation for his service disability so long as he lived.
In the case of a man who was very slightly disabled, but could not carry on in his previous vocation, the federal board provides schooling facilities for him only, and does not pay him while he is under training. Such a man would receive compensation for service disability, commensurate with the extent of his disability.

In closing his remarks, the speaker stated the people of the country could be assured that the government was doing its best to function properly for the complete care of all of the disabled ex-service men, and they could be assured that with additional experience in this matter the opportunities for physical and vocational rehabilitation for ex-service men are being constantly increased. The Bureau of War Risk Insurance is the agent for the care of the disabled men and their compensation and the Federal Board for Vocational Education for their vocational rehabilitation and through these agencies will finally be accomplished the successful care of the disabled men to whom the government and the people owe so great a debt of gratitude.

Unfortunately there appear in the newspapers from time to time misleading articles on the attitude of the government toward the disabled ex-service men. When these tales of alleged mistreatment and neglect are finally run down it will be found that they were usually either based on no truth whatsoever, or on a foundation
so flimsy as to make them unreliable. The American people can rest assured that with the present available facilities every effort is being made by the new director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Col.
C. R. Forbes, to have every disabled man properly cared for so long as his disability exists.

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD
One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy
year in and year out and tire after tire.
The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handiest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S.
Fabric Tire line.

Economy rides on U.S. Tires

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling
at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires
—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches.
Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made.
There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production,
as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

by S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.

There is an old Spanish proverb which says: "He that does not save pennies will never have pounds."

It is safe to say that most persons who do not save money neglect to do so because they feel they cannot save enough to be worth while. And this is where they make a grave mistake.

It is better to save a penny a day than nothing at all.

Even though one might otherwise be extravagant, a small sum is laid away at regular intervals some progress at least is being made.

It is better to practice one percent thrift than not to practice it at all because he who practices one percent thrift will soon develop into the two percent class and then into the five percent class and on up the scale until eventually he will become a one hundred percent thrift exemplar.

It is regrettable that there has been such a vast amount of misconception fostered in this country regarding thrift by persons and agencies who have only looked at the subject from a superficial viewpoint. Encouragement has been given to the belief that the man or woman who practices thrift must be prepared to live a bleak and joyless existence. Undue stress has been laid upon self-denial, the elimination of all pleasures and the surrender of every form of diversion. As a result of such widespread misunderstanding, many a person has been discouraged before ever starting on any regular thrift system.

In reality thrift brings the deep happiness of contentment and the wholesome exhilaration of success.

If you want proof that there is real joy in thrift, set aside a small sum each day for a given length of time. Make the amount small enough so that you will be sure that you can keep up your experiment during the prescribed time without subjecting yourself to serious inconvenience. The result will be that you will gain more happiness from the small sum of money thus saved than you could get from the same amount of money no matter how you might spend it.

Learn to save the pennies. The dollars will take care of themselves.

RAIDED TRAMP CAMP TUESDAY

And Arrive Six Hobos—Judge Schirick in Discharging the Season Warns Them to Notify Knights of Road Association to Skip Kingston in Future.

Several complaints have been made to the police department of the tramp camp at the end of West O'Reilly street, near the West Shore railroad tunnel, and Tuesday afternoon Sergeant Phinney and Officers Snyder, Simpson, Healey, Saebloff, Soper and "Sine" Wood visited the camp and rounded up six of the inmates. The six gave their names as: Edgar R. Wooley, New York city; Frank O'Brien, Boston; John Wiseman, Boston; John Kelly, New Bedford; James Martin, Bridgeport, Conn.; and John Smith, of New York city. They ranged in age from 40 to 52 years.

After spending the night in the county jail the six were arraigned before Judge Schirick in police court this morning, and all pleaded guilty to loitering at the tramp camp. Some of them had been on the road but a short time while others confessed they had been members of the Knights of the Road Association for over ten years.

Judge Schirick informed them that as they were the first of the season he would give them an opportunity to leave town, and advised them to return to the camp and leave suitable signs behind warning other members of the fraternity that Kingston was no place for tramps as all caught hereafter would be jailed.

"Oh, the news will travel fast now your honor," said one of the six, and the others nodded their heads in agreement. As they left the court room they thanked the court. Judge Schirick made it plain that Kingston did not want any members of the Knights of the Road Association, and that it would be best for them to give the city a wide berth in the future.

MISS TEATS BETTER TODAY

Rhinebeck Girl Who Got Too Much Gas At Major Tanner's Home Left Note of Apology And Sealed Envelope For Lover.

Miss Nellie Teats, aged 20 years, the young woman who was found unconscious in her room at the home of Major Alfred Tanner, 186 Pine street, where she was employed, Tuesday morning having stuffed the keyhole with paper and turned on the gas, and who later was taken to the Benedictine Hospital, was reported improving this morning, and her recovery is now expected. Miss Teats's parents reside about one mile out of Rhinebeck and her father came to this city today to see his daughter.

Miss Teats left a note addressed to Mrs. Spencer L. Dawes, who is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tanner and who runs the household, stating that she was sorry to cause the trouble by reason of her act and asking to be forwarded a sealed envelope addressed to a man "who would understand what she had written to him." Mr. Tanner said he turned the envelope with letter over to District Attorney Traver, and that Miss Teats evidently was in love with the one addressed.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith were Sunday guests of Mrs. W. E. Daniels, upper Main street, Catskill.

Superintendent J. E. Mahar, of the Prudential Insurance Company, was a business caller in Catskill Tuesday.

Miss Julia Styles of Schenectady, N. Y., who has been visiting her brother, Crawford R. Styles, in this city, has returned home.

Clarence S. Schoonmaker, boys work secretary of the Gloversville, Y. M. C. A., spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Schoonmaker of 344 Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hayden, the latter formerly Mrs. Theodora C. Hayden of Tetham Manor, N. Y., who motored to Kingston visiting relatives, have returned to their home.

Kirtland J. Myer who has been living in Kingston, the past few months, has returned to Saugerties, to reside. He is making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Howard Van Buskirk of Parition street.

Roger H. Loughran, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Loughran of Main street, sailed today from New York city on the steamer Huron for Buenos Aires, South America, where he will be associated with the law firm of Edey, Bollaert & Roche.

Sold at Foreclosure.
Surrogate George F. Kaufman, as referee in the mortgage foreclosure action brought by Morris & Company against Jacob J. Myers and others, sold at auction at the court house at noon today the Myers residence at No. 24 Henry street, the lot having a frontage of 33 feet on Henry street and being 117 feet deep and containing a dwelling house. The property was bid in by Mathias Burgher for $2,000, subject to a mortgage of $2,400. Brinnier, Caulfield & Brinnier were attorneys for the plaintiff; various defendants were represented by Fowler & Loughran, Henry Klein, Newton H. Fessenden and Robert G. Groves.

Preached At Newburgh.
The Rev. A. K. Fuller, pastor of the Wurts Street Baptist Church, on Sunday morning, May 22, addressed the congregation of the First Baptist Church, Newburgh. Until fourteen years ago Dr. Fuller was for fifteen years pastor of the First Baptist Church in Newburgh. Since then he has been in the Wurts Street Baptist Church, this city. In speaking to his old congregation, Dr. Fuller said that although many of the older members had gone, and new ones come, that he was pleased to see so many familiar faces.

Our Growing Population.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

CHICKEN NEWS.

"Well," said Miss White Chicken, "what is the news?"

"News," said Mrs. White Hen, "is always interesting. Who knows any news?"

There were a number of white chickens and white hens sitting one afternoon on a hot summer day under a big shady tree. They were trying to get cool, for they felt quite warm, though they looked nice and cool and summery in their pretty white feathers.

"I know some news," said Mrs. Snow Hen.

"Tell it to us," said the other hens and chickens.

"There are some relations of ours who are being brought up in great luxury," said Mrs. Snow Hen.

She had been so named because her feathers looked even whiter than the feathers of the others.

"What does luxury mean?" asked Miss White Chicken.

"You, cackle, cackle, what does it mean?" asked Mrs. White Hen.

"Luxury," said Mrs. Snow Hen, "means riches and such things. When a creature is living in luxury it means that creature is living among rich people and things and having everything about that costs lots of money."

"Is it pleasant to live that way?" asked Miss White Chicken.

"Many think so," said Mrs. Snow Hen, "but I've never noticed that it made much difference. Sometimes it seems to make them sad, for they find they've lost a lot of other things by the roadside as they've been looking for riches and luxury."

"Can one pick up riches and luxury as one can seeds?" asked Mrs. White Hen.

"No, not exactly," said Mrs. Snow Hen.

"And what do they lose by the way?" asked Miss White Chicken.

"Oh, they lose all sorts of things, like knowing how to have a good time, and they forget all the pleasures they used to have in a simple way until they've found that the pleasures which cost a great deal don't always mean so much at all."

"But, pray do not ask me to tell you too much about luxury and riches, for I don't know much about them. I'm glad I am a regular chicken, though."

"And what do they lose by the way?" asked Miss White Chicken.

THE OFFICE CAT

Mathematics.

He was trying to teach her arithmetic. He thought it was his mission. He kissed her once. He kissed her twice. He said: "Now that's addition." Then there followed smack by smack. In silent satisfaction. "Finally she gave one back. And said: 'Now, that's subtraction.'" Then he kissed her and she kissed him. Without an explanation. Then both together hugged and said: "That's multiplication."

But Dad appeared upon the scene. And with his great decision. He kicked him miles away and said: "That's long division."

What Careful Seed Tests Show

CAREFUL seed tests at Government Experiment Stations have proved over and over again that good drills—planting the correct amount of seed at the proper depth—add from 4 to 10 bushels to the yield per acre, over broadcasting and poor drilling.

Investigations wherever good farming is practiced will show Empire Jr. Grain Drills in the forefront in correct construction and in popularity.

A drill that is backed by a history of uninterrupted success is a pretty dependable implement. To plant the seed just deep enough and yet not too deep, and cover it evenly and compactly is forward-looking business sense.

The famous Empire double-run feed is the most positive feed ever placed on a grain drill. This is only one of a number of fine features that will interest you. We will welcome an opportunity to go over them, one by one, with you, showing you just how their construction serves to do such exceptional work. Our service is also a source of pride with us and we want to explain how it is ready for your every emergency.

ONE CENT A WORD ADVS. BRING RESULTS

BARTH AND BACK MEN ENROLLED

L. Barth & Son, one of the newest plants in the city, have won the honor of organizing the first 100 per cent United States Treasury Saving Association in Kingston. Superior tinent C. H. Neer Tuesday reported to Postmaster DeWitt and his committee that the 33 employees of the Barth plant had become members of a treasury association and would invest $84 weekly in Uncle Sam's securities that earn four per cent interest, compounded quarterly.

Per capita, this is one of the best showings made by any industrial plant in the Second Federal Reserve district and the treasury manager, who is working under Mr. DeWitt's committee, has made a special report to headquarters at 120 Broadway, New York city.

Joseph Suarez, superintendent of the J. B. Back & Company cigar plant, Tuesday reported that 21 of his 35 employees had enrolled and would make a weekly investment of $17. By the end of the week more than thirty plants will have been organized and the "pooling" of savings by the treasury's deduction or withholding plan will be in effect. Mr. Mosser will present the plan to the employees of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation Friday shortly before noon. The merits of the plan appealed to John D. Schoonmaker, president, and chairman and committee were named to carry the message to the employees. Engagements have been billed for every day until Friday noon in an effort to cover all the remaining plants to whose heads the sensible saving and sound investment idea has been sold.

WARREN'S FLOWER SHOW.

Store Window on Fair Street Attracts Attention.

The exhibition of Iris and Columbine being shown in the window of the Charles A. Warren store on Fair street, by members of the Ulster Garden Club attracts much attention both because of the beauty of the flowers and the artistic manner in which they are arranged. Mrs. DeForest Smith exhibits a vase of rare deep yellow Iris arranged with the flowers of the Fringe Bush. The large pottery vase in the center of the exhibition showing large lavender and deep blue Iris, several shades of Columbine and other seasonal flowers comes from the garden of Mrs. Edward Cokendall.

Mrs. Charles A. Warren shows a group of many shaded Iris and white Columbine. Mrs. Charles Tappen has an exhibit of many colored Iris that is lovely. Mrs. Williams Carter shows a vase of delicate pink Columbine and another of dainty-flowered pale mauve and deeper hued Iris grown from seed. Mrs. G. D. B. Hasbrouck has on exhibition a fine collection of many tinted Columbine. The vase of large lavender and deep blue Iris came from Mrs. John D. Schoonmaker's garden. Mrs. John W. Searing has on exhibition an old blue pitcher full of large white and pale blue Iris. A basket full of many tinted Iris is shown by Mrs. Everett Fowler and Mrs. Harold King exhibits yellow Iris and Columbines.

One of the finest exhibits of Iris of rare and rich hues with Columbine of unusual tints is exhibited by Mrs. George Hutton. Tuesday another contribution to the collection of lovely pink Iris and two delicate white and lavender blossoms failed to show the name of the exhibitor.

ROTARIAN'S RAIL REMINISCENCES

After disposing of a vast amount of important business and welcoming C. H. Lavin as a new member, the Rotary Club today enjoyed a talk by William C. Hussey on old times in the railroad, in which the speaker gave a number of interesting and humorous reminiscences of his early experiences.

Included in the important business was the adoption of a code of laws for promoting the dignity and decorum of future meetings. These new laws, suggested by W. C. Hussey, who was not present, will be expected to enforce, with authority, on all members of the club, who are expected to observe them. Mr. Hussey may be left after the entertainment has taken effect. Mr. Hussey will be delightfully surprised when he receives a copy of the new rules. It was reported that the Yama Farms dining room had been stretched to hold 55 guests next Wednesday evening and 57 tickets had been sold, with eight applications unfiled.

Highland Chapter No. 335, O. E. S., celebrated the distiller grand officers Tuesday evening, May 24. Many were present, including delegations from Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Walden, Kingston, Saugerties and Ellenville. The chapter room was also filled with a large company of Highland Slaves and Masons. The district deputy Nellie V. Sawyer and assistant grand lecturer Joseph W. Frankel were introduced by R. W. Susanne Decker in a cordial address and a fine welcome was made by Worthy Marion Schofield. Sister Bloomer made a lovely presentation speech when she gave Mrs. Sawyer a magnificent basket full of flowers. The Highland chapter officers did beautiful work in draping the altar and exemplifying the Star degrees. The addresses by Mrs. Sawyer and Mr. Frankel were closely listened to. Mrs. Sawyer was extremely and appropriately addressed the chapter on "Our Heroes" with special reference to Memorial Day. Her own poem, recited at the close of the address made a deep impression. Mr. Frankel spoke on the subject "Service" in keeping with the 14th anniversary of Highland chapter, and his key thought was to be serviceable for the benefit of mankind. His introductory remarks were well spiced with humor. Following the addresses there came the gift presentations by Associate Matron Donovan and W. C. Batt. After chapter adjournment a splendid banquet was served amid the accompaniment of stately strains of an orchestra. It was a memorable night for all present.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, May 25.—Mixed changes were noted again in the early trading on the stock exchange today. There was no particular feature. United States Steel moved up 1/4 to 32 1/4. Mexican Petroleum rose 1/4 to 14 1/4. Studebaker gained 1/4 to 7 1/4. Central Leather declined 1/4 to 25 1/4. Chandler Motors declined 1/4 to 62 1/4. American Woolen lost 1/4 to 72 1/4. Bethlehem Steel "B" rose 1/4 to 37 1/4 and Pierce-Arrow declined 1/4 to 23 1/4.

Although many stocks showed gains at the beginning of business today the advances did not indicate any change in trading conditions. Baldwin Locomotive started with a gain of 1/4 which was lost in the next few minutes. U. S. Rubber was under pressure falling over a point to 69. At the end of the first 15 minutes the market again became strong and another upturn occurred. Baldwin moving back to its opening price and recoveries were made on other issues. The railroad stocks were generally higher. A few of the oil stocks were under pressure. Pacific Oil declined 1/4 to 35 1/4. The character continued of an irregular morning, some issues making moderate gains, while others declined to new low prices for the year. Closely held industrials and specialties were under pressure at times. United States Rubber dropping over 2 points to 65 1/4. General Asphalt was also under pressure, ranging from 68 1/4 to 65 1/4. U. S. Steel maintained a steady tone and after dropping 1/4 to 32 1/4, rallied to 32 3/4.

NEW HURLEY.

New Hurley, May 25.—The Rev. G. B. Scholten will exchange pupils with the Rev. Homer Snodder of East Greenwich, N. Y., on Sunday morning, May 29.

A parlor meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Scholten on Wednesday evening, June 1. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The ladies of the W. C. T. U. entertained at the home of Miss Florence Holmes last Saturday afternoon. A most delicious dinner was also served. Miss Kathryn Graubart at this meeting in honor of her approaching marriage to Fred Scholten, a native of New York City. Several pretty and useful gifts were received by the bride-elect. Arrangements were also made for the luncheon which the girls club expect to hold some time in July. Any articles donated for the fund will be gladly received by the club.

Two Much Candy For Makers.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 25.—A statement of production as a sugar crop for the candy industry was issued today by A. S. Conkover of Atlantic City, N. J., president of the National Confectioners Association. He said that the 1921 crop of sugar will be about 100,000 tons, which is about 10 percent more than the 1920 crop.

KINCAID HELPING NEAR EAST RELIEF

Adjutant General, as State Chairman, Urges People to Save Starving Armenians.

Brig. Gen. J. Leslie Kincaid, Adjutant General of New York State, has been selected by Near East Relief as State Chairman in a drive to complete New York State's quota of three million dollars for relief work in Armenia and other countries of Western Asia.

Coincident with the campaign for funds, a Bundle Day for the collection of three million pounds of cast-off clothing will be held throughout the state on June 6.

General Kincaid was induced to accept the post upon reading recent cablegrams appeals to Near East Relief from its representatives in the field.

In announcing his plans for the campaign General Kincaid said that every state armory would be opened on June 6 to receive bundles of worn and spare clothing for immediate shipment to the Near East.

The National Theatrical Committee for Near East Relief, of which John Drew is Chairman, is arranging also for the use of theaters for the same purpose.

Local Chairmen Named.

General Kincaid has made a personal appeal to the chief executives of all municipalities in the state, asking them to appoint a prominent citizen in each community to take charge of the Near East Relief work.

Theaters in the state will be asked to distribute Bundle Day tags, which may be attached to bundles and sent, parcel post, to Near East Relief Warehouse at 5 West Thirtieth street, New York City. The American Legion is also helping.

BRIG. GEN. J. LESLIE KINCAID—

In addition to the appeal for funds, General Kincaid is directing an effort to collect supplies of food from farmers and other producers and distributors of foodstuffs.

Over 3,000 tons of foodstuffs, chiefly flour, comprised the cargo of the first relief ship, the Mopang, which sailed from New York to Constantinople.

The flour in the cargo was the result of the Near East Relief "Say It With Flour" Campaign.

Orphans in Danger.

"No people in the world today are in such dire need of help as the Armenians," said General Kincaid. "In addition to the hundreds of thousands who were driven from their homes by the Turks during the war and who have not been allowed to return, Near East Relief is caring for many thousands who have recently been forced into exile through the operations of the Russian Soviet and the Turkish Nationalist forces."

"Over 100,000 orphan children are dependent on this organization. We must supply these people with food, and we must see that they get warm clothing before winter sets in. I am confident that New York State will do its share."

GIVES OLD HOME TO AID HARM VICTIMS

The old War home at Medical Lake, built years ago by Rev. Isaac W. Wain, a pioneer preacher, from his earnings as a home missionary for the Congregational church, is to be sold to help feed the hungry children of Armenia and to help provide a refuge for Christian girls arrested from bondage in Mohammedan harems.

It has been recently listed to Near East Relief by Rev. Lincoln L. Wain, son of the pioneer, as a tribute to the memory of his father and mother.

"If you can take out old home into one that will provide homes for a few Armenian children it will make me happy indeed, and I know my dear father and mother would wish me to do so," said the donor.

It was announced from the sale of the place enough to rescue from one Christian girl from a Turkish harem the saying that put into their home from a harem missionary salary will be a memorial home in keeping with their own spirit of devotion and service for others than any monument of stone.

Seven Dead in Dublin Riots.

EPH HAD NOTHING TO SAY

Absent-Minded Man Didn't Wait to Make Explanation of Somewhat Laughter Situation.

Old Ephraim Davis had the reputation of being the most absent-minded man in Chenango county. One day he went to 8—on various matters of business. At the tailor's he bought a new suit, which he donned, asking that his old one be wrapped up. He then went to the national bank and purchased bonds of considerable value and placed them in the breast pocket of his new suit. After doing several other errands he drove leisurely home.

Some time afterward he went to get the bonds from the pocket of his old suit. Naturally, he did not find them here. Greatly perturbed, he put on his new suit and set off for 8—There he went immediately to the bank.

"I bought some bonds here the other day," he began in his drawing voice, "and I put them right in this here pocket." His hand went up to his coat. At a sudden rustling that ensued an expression of relief came into the wrinkled countenance. "And, by gosh, here they be!"

Without another word he turned on his heel and walked on, leaving the bank employees convulsed with laughter.—Youth's Companion.

Her Business.

Judge T. J. Melt of Superior court, room 5, sometimes tells a story which runs like this:

"In one of the courts in southern Indiana a woman was on trial for the unlawful practice of sorcery. She was being questioned by the prosecution, and her occupation made her sufficiently adept in respect to effect any incantation or evidence which she might have thrown on herself by a conjugal answer. Finally the judge became tired and shut this question to her silent mouth."

"Are you or are you not a sorcerer?" And just as quickly came back the answer:

"Yes, I am, that's my business."

"The judge was on the point of sentencing her for contempt of court when he realized that she had given a perfectly legal answer.—Indiscreet.

New Idea in Jelly-Making.

In the jelly-making process patented by M. O. Johnson, fruit juice is concentrated by drawing out a portion of its water and is then heated to a temperature high enough to coagulate suspended matter, though not high enough to impair the flavor. After separation of suspended matter, the juice is stirred by suction to a temperature below that required for coagulation, then filtered after being heated. Sugar added before cooking. See was given better clarification.

CARPENTIER GOOD ON SHORT ROUTE

"Tad" Points Out That Clever Boxes Has All The Better of It In 12-Round Bout—Others Have Knocked Frenchman Down and He Got Up and Beat Them But Then He Never Got One of Jack's Wallops.

(By Tad)

By Telegram to The Freeman
New York, May 25.—Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier will meet in a 12 round contest for the heavyweight championship of the world.

The short limit of the thing invites discussion. In a 25 round or a finish contest there would be nothing to it but Dempsey. As it is, the clever Carpentier's chances look bright.

Looking back over former heavyweight champions we see nothing but Jim Corbett when we think of 12 round championship battles.

Would you admit that Corbett would still be heavyweight champion if he engaged in nothing but 12 round fights?

He never would have lost to Fitzsimmons because he was leading a mile at the end of the twelfth stanza. He never would have lost to Jeffries because he was a mile in front at the 12th round. It was the distance that killed Corbett.

The clever boxer stands head and shoulders above his husky opponent in a limited bout.

Phil Jack O'Brien was almost unbeatable in the short distance fights. Young Griffe was seldom touched in the six and ten round bouts.

Kid McCoy could make most heavyweights look silly for the first ten rounds.

Jack Dempsey, of course, has never fought more than 12 rounds. His fights usually end in the first or second round but then these battles were with slow moving vehicles.

Jack has never faced a moving target such as the French marvel. Jack has never swung at such a fast piece of boxing machinery. He doesn't know what it means to miss twice in succession.

We can't say that Dempsey and Carpentier resemble Sullivan and Corbett for Dempsey is a much faster man than the great John L. was. He carries the same punch but he's a great deal faster.

The clever lads like Carpentier are sweet when not molested in the short bouts but sting them once and they're slowed up to a walk.

Will Carpentier be able to dance and elude the champion after he's stung? Can he stand the gas? Gunboat Smith dropped him: why can't Dempsey? Bombardier Wells made him kiss the canvas; why not Dempsey?

Carpentier, while extremely clever, is no Griffe. He wouldn't be able to stand on a handkerchief and let Dempsey swing at him. He's clever, yes, but he loves to get in and trade hooks. He's a fighter. He can take it and then get up and win. He was on the floor with Smith but managed to win anyway. Wells had him down too but he got up and finished Wells in the same round.

With Dempsey though, it will be a bit different. His opponents may get up but they're never the same after taking one of his wallops on the kisser.

GREG VOLUNTEERS

As Sparring Partner for Dempsey—Ticket Sales Hoge.

By Telegram to The Freeman
New York, May 25.—Harry Greb, the Pittsburgh light-heavyweight, has heard the call of Jack Dempsey for sparring partners and said today that he will answer it in person at Atlantic City.

"I'll help Jack out in a case like this where he can't get enough sparring partners," said Greb, "and will give him the best work out down there. Ordinarily I'm not a sparring partner for anybody but if Jack Kearns wants me I'll cancel several engagements to give the champ some work. Now it's up to Kearns."

It was announced today at Madison Square Garden that the ticket sales for the Dempsey-Carpentier fight has passed the half million mark already.

K. H. S. LOSES FIRST GAME

And That by 1' Run to Newburgh Academy—Newburgh Got But 3 Hits But They Came at Opportune Time and Locals' Errors Helped.

The Kingston High School baseball team lost its first league game of the season on Tuesday afternoon when the Newburgh Academy team won at Newburgh with a 5-4 score.

Johnson was in the box for the Maroon and White combination and allowed but three hits. However, the Newburghers took advantage of these and as they all came at a most opportune time the result turned out in favor of Newburgh. In the second inning a home run by Barton accounted for two runs, while two hits in the fifth with three errors by the locals accounted for the winning runs.

The Maroon and White boys walloped the ball for nine hits. Bott met the ball in the eighth inning with a clout that was labeled for a home run, but the local boys seemed to lack the ability to get over the winning punch in the last of this inning.

Kingston started the scoring with a run in the second inning and Newburgh got two in their half of that frame. This was the inning in which Barton drove out a circuit clout over Cahill's head in left field.

The eighth inning was Kingston's big inning. Newburgh lead 5-1 when Vogt singled to left field, his third hit of the day. Davenport followed with another hit. Bott then drove his four-sacker into left field. The inning was brought to a close when Van Bramer struck out with two more Maroon and White men on the bases.

In the ninth, Davenport hit safe and was thrown out on the way to second after getting Bott's hit and run signal, Bott going out on a pop fly.

Vogt and Cahill starred with the stick, getting three hits apiece.

Johnson pitched a great game and should have won considering the way he held the Newburgh men from hitting.

Newburgh will visit Kingston on Saturday afternoon but the score will be different and a different team will be on the big end, too.

THE MOHICAN COMPANY

296 WALL STREET, NEAR JOHN ST., KINGSTON.

New York's First Hotel.
The earliest hotel on record in New York city was Kiteer's tavern, along M.C. replaced in 1704 by the King's Arms. At about the time that the town became English a proclamation was issued regulating the inn, with the stipulation that meals were not to cost more than eightpence per loca.

Cost Supply and Consumption.
According to a prophecy uttered by Prof. William E. Sears of Princeton, when the world's coal supply is exhausted, fair competition will disappear and we may even become a black-skinned race, says the only power. He explained that fair-competition is but a name for the struggle, in which the victor is the one who has the most coal. As soon as the last barrel of coal is thrown into the fire, so runs the prophecy.

Royal Speech in Second Place.
It is popularly supposed that a new version of the British constitution is being written by the king's speech but
